A SOFTWARE UTILIZATION ASSESSMENT WILL PREPARE YOU FOR YOUR NEXT SOFTWARE
AUDIT

Utilization

Armarius Software is capable of providing companies a complete detailed report on all software installed within your organization and then being able to provide an additional report of exactly how many users are actually using these applications.

Companies are facing Software Compliance Reviews on a yearly basis. Whether its Microsoft or other software manufactures comparing how many licenses you have installed versus how many you actually have purchased. You now have the ability to provide these organizations a detailed report of what is installed, the version, any related serial numbers, and the number of users that the software is installed on throughout your enterprise.

Armarius' agent based software has the ability to provide these types of reports because it is monitoring and capturing all user actions while monitoring everything installed and running within the users desktop or laptop.

The ability for the solution to capture exactly whom within an organization is actually using these different applications will empower our clients the ability to make smarter decisions when renewing license or maintenance agreements with their vendors. Armarius will be able to save companies thousands to millions of dollars by providing these accurate software audit and usage reports to their clients. The key to making intelligent business decisions comes down to having accurate data and analytics on how your users are working on a daily, weekly, or monthly basis.
